Report on Group Discussion

A group discussion on "Skilful Analysis of Circuits" was held for B.Sc. final year students on September 25 and 27, 2019 by the Physics Department. Students were divided into eight groups on a random basis. It is required that the team captain be chosen by each group. Sixteen experiments were selected for discussion. Every team receives two experiments, which are distributed randomly. Discussion among groups is allowed for 15 minutes. Following the allotted time, team members assisted the team captain as they presented their perspective.

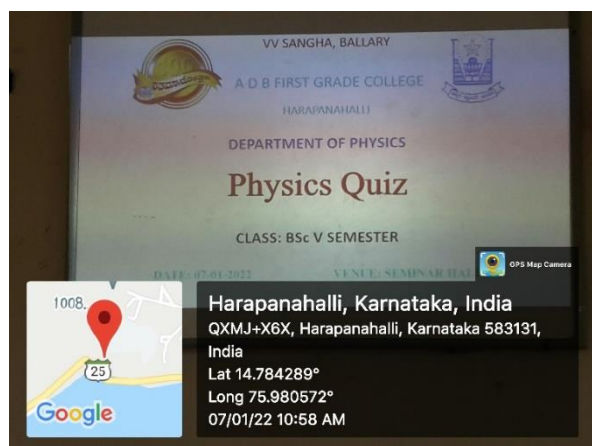

Every one of the 47 students took an active part in it. Some students voiced their opinions after the activity. They expressed their gratitude to the physics department faculty for giving them such an amazing opportunity.

Report on Listening Skill

Listening skill activity was conducted for B.Sc.3rd semester students on 07-01-2022 at 10:00 a.m. In this activity a story (both in Kannada and in English) was narrated with moderate speed without repeating the sentences. After the narration, the students had to answer a few questions. More than 50% students have answered 4 out 5 questions. Very few students have secured less than 50% marks. A bar chart representing the Number of student's vs marks has been prepared. We have advised the poor listeners to improve their listening skill which will help them improve their classroom listening.
